

Trump and Evangelical America: The Rise (and Fall?) of the Religious Right

Wednesday February 7 | 12 pm
Foley Speakers Room Bryan 308

During the 2016 election, no group supported President Trump more enthusiastically than white evangelicals. Despite ongoing sex scandals and his admittedly crude behavior in office, many evangelical leaders continue to support the president in apparent contradiction of their commitment to moral values. Come join us as Professor Matthew Sutton unravels the history behind the evangelical love affair with the president.

Matthew Sutton is the Edward R. Meyer Distinguished Professor, the Graduate Studies Director in WSU's Department of History, and a Guggenheim Fellow. His recent book American Apocalypse: A History of Modern Evangelicalism (Harvard University Press, 2014) was named a Choice "Outstanding Academic Title of 2015" by the American Library Association
