The COVID-19 pandemic put new stresses on our system of elections, and a shift in many states toward mail-in balloting. Are mail-in ballots safe? What’s driving the polarization of mail-in balloting and what challenges lie ahead?

Barry Burden is professor of political science and director of the Elections Research Center at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is author of Personal Roots of Representation (Princeton University Press).

Thursday October 8 | 12 noon

Watch all events live on the Foley Institute Youtube Channel
(url: youtube.com/c/FoleyInstitute/videos)