Immigration & inequality at the U.S.-Mexican border

Tuesday October 5 | 12:00 p.m.
https://youtu.be/ny9wDm7Nsnc

Professor Aaron Bobrow-Strain, Whitman College, will discuss how problems at the US-Mexico border are not solely a feature of failed immigration policies, but part of a larger story of inequality involving deindustrialization, the destruction of unions, and the creation of a border security industrial complex. It will draw from his best-selling book, The Death and Life of Aida Hernandez.

Watch all events live on the Foley Institute Youtube Channel
(url: youtube.com/c/FoleyInstitute/videos)