Watch all events live on the Foley Institute Youtube Channel (url: youtube.com/c/FoleyInstitute/videos)

Social class and inequality

Tuesday October 19 | 12pm

Why has public demand for redistribution of wealth not risen, even as economic inequality has risen sharply over the past four decades? How do people respond when they think of themselves and the economic other?

Amber Wichowsky, Marquette University, will discuss the findings published in her coauthored book, The Economic Other: Inequality in the American Political Imagination, published in 2020.