Hope for a Heated Planet: How We Can Promote Change and Stop Global Warming by

Robert K. Musil

Former Executive Director of Physicians for Social Responsibility

Dr. Robert K. Musil will discuss how a growing national movement including campuses, environmentalists, public health specialists, national security experts, religious communities, and ordinary citizens is transforming the debate about energy and global warming and what we need to do now to insure that the promise of change in Washington is not lost in a sea of special interests.

Dr. Musil is the long-time head of the Nobel Peace Prize-winning Physicians for Social Responsibility (PSR), leading Washington non-profit lobbyist, and author of the newly released and highly acclaimed book “Hope for a Heated Planet” (Rutgers University Press, 2009). Dr. Musil is now Chairman of the Board of 2020 Vision: Environment, Energy and Security Solutions and teaches at American University and the Wesley Theological Seminary.

Dr. Musil will be signing copies of his book directly following his lecture.
