Lessons (un)learned
The roots of Middle East violence

Thursday February 29 | 12pm
Foley Speaker’s Room

How does continued exposure to violence in the Middle East lead to a cycle of extremism? What have we learned from previous Middle East wars – and what are we ignoring?

Lawrence Pintak is an award-winning journalist who has reported from the Middle East and around the world. He was the founding dean of WSU’s Murrow College of Communication.