TITLE:
The use of Explain Everything to replace the white board during lectures.
AUTHORS: - with affiliation(s)
Dean A. Hendrickson, Colorado State University
ABSTRACT: Brief (2-3 sentences) description of your session.
The use of white boards can be very useful for describing techniques or concepts in the lecture or small group format. However, in the lecture setting only some of the participants can see the construction of the drawings on the board as the instructor typically blocks the view of others. Using Explain Everything on a tablet allows the instructor to construct the drawings using the projector so all of the students can see what is going on and how the concepts come together.
