RICHARD M. MYERS, PhD

President and Science Director, M.A. Loya and Chair in Genomics, HudsonAlpha Institute for Biotechnology

Prior to joining HudsonAlpha, Dr. Myers was Chair of the Dept. of Genetics and Director of the Stanford Human Genome Center at Stanford University School of Medicine. During this time, Dr. Myers' lab contributed more than 10% of the data for the Human Genome Project. At HudsonAlpha, researchers in the Myers lab integrate functional genomics, epigenetics and genetic data to understand how genomes are involved in brain disorders, ALS, cancer and autoimmune disorders.

BRUCE KORF, MD, PhD

Wayne H. and Sara Crews Finley Endowed Chair in Medical Genetics and Associate Dean for Genomic Medicine, UAB School of Medicine

Dr. Korf has served on the Board of Scientific Counselors of the National Cancer Institute and the National Human Genome Research Institute at the NIH. He is past president of the American College of Medical Genetics and Genomics (ACMG), past president of the Association of Professors of Human and Medical Genetics, and of the ACMG Foundation. He is currently Editor-in-Chief of The American Journal of Human Genetics.
