A little boy reveals a smile, thank God he doesn’t cry,
inspecting me with greatest care and giving me a try.
I wonder what my best advice for this little boy would be as my own memories are coming back to me.

An inner calm from top to toe enchants me right away, he’s aiming gently at my heart, guess I’m an easy prey.
Still I wonder what my best advice for this little boy would be,
as his fine young eyes rest with me.

You better listen to your mother ’cause she knows her way around, might wanna ask your father when your brows they tend to frown.
but always trust your fine young heart, ’cause it won’t lie to you, and you’ll be able to see through black and white, wrong or right.
It’s all the things between that make your life worthwhile.

The little boy learns to speak and says my name out loud.
It might not be that big a deal, still I feel really proud, and I wonder what my best advice for this little boy would be,
but I guess soon he’ll learn to call and he’ll be teaching me.

So I better stop believing that he needs my words at all to find his way, to save the day, to touch the sky and fall.
We plan a course and then it changes, that’s all I really know,
and here’s a cowboy ready to go.
Time
Jennifer Lucy Cook
(b. 1988)

Time
You can spend it
When you spend it
Then you’re running out of
Time
You can save it
But to save it is to take a little
Time
In a minute
When you’re in it
Can you feel the passing
Time
Is an illusion
There’s confusion
When they tell you now it’s

Time
To get older
Time
To work and
Time to waste and there’s no
Time
Left to hold her
Time
To tell him how you feel
While there’s still
Time
Three two one, eleven thirty
Two AM, then dinner
Time
Now to kill
I said I will
And still
It flies and flies, oh
Time
Rise to a brand new day,
Open your eyes to a better way.
Make it here, make it now,
It’s a brand new day.

Sail the ocean breeze and land upon a distant shore,
Where you can see and touch and feel the things you’ve never seen before.
So when the coolest shades of blue are all you’ve got to choose tomorrow,
Take a look around when the world is upside down
And you can find a different ground
And you can rise to a brand new day
Open your eyes to a better way.

Take the time to breathe and then you know you’ve just begun
To feel the freedom of the earth and taste the rain before the sun,
Sometimes when all your bridges burn and there’s nowhere to turn tomorrow,
Take a look around when the world is upside down
And you can find a different ground
And you can rise to a brand new day
Open your eyes to a better way.
Make it here, make it now,
It’s a brand new day.

Meet me on that shore that we have both been dreaming of,
And I will tell you how I feel in this new language made of love,
Even if it’s just a tender moment we can borrow,
Look beyond the sky, from the corners in your mind,
you can always learn to fly.

Oh rise to a brand new day,
Open your eyes to a better way.
Break away to the other side
It’s not too late to give change a try,
Make it here,
Find it here.

Come Ready and See Me

Come ready and see me
No matter how late
Come before the years run out
I’m waiting with a candle
No wind will blow out
But you must haste
By foot or by sky
For no one can wait forever
Under the bluest sky
I can’t wait forever
For the years are running out

We Remember Them
Susan LaBarr
(b. 1981)

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer;
At the opening of the buds and in rebirth of spring;
At the rising of the sun and at its going down;
We remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter;
At the rustling of the leaves and beauty of autumn time;
At the start of the year and when it ends;
We remember them.
As long as we live, they too will live.

When we are weary and in need of strength;
    When we are lost and sick at heart;
When we have joy we crave to share;
    We remember them.

(b. 1977)

My grandmothers were strong.
They followed plows and bent to toil.
They moved through fields sowing seed.
They touched the earth and grain grew.
They were full of sturdiness and singing.
    My grandmothers were strong.

My grandmothers are full of memories.
Smelling of soap and onions and wet clay,
With veins rolling roughly over quick hands
    They have many clean words to say.
    My grandmothers were strong.
    Why am I not as they?

I Cannot Dance, O Lord
Stephen Paulus
(1949-2014)

I cannot dance, O Lord,
    Unless you lead me.
If you wish me to leap joyfully,
    Let me see you dance and sing!

Then I will leap into Love—
And from Love into Knowledge,
And from Knowledge into the Harvest,
That sweetest Fruit beyond human sense.

Then I will leap into Love,
There I will stay with You.
    Whirling.

I cannot dance, O Lord,
    Unless you lead me.
From flower to flower, hour after hour,
Be humble, be humble, bumble bee.

They all say you can’t fly. Tiny wings still take you high,
Be humble, be humble, bumble bee.

And I’ve heard you can’t die. Heaven knows if that’s a lie.
Be humble, be humble, bumble bee.

Libera Me

Sung in Latin

Libera me, Domine, de morte aeterna in die illa tremenda
quando coeli movendi sunt et terra,
dum veneris judicare saeculum per ignem.
Tremens factus sum ego et timeo,
dum discussio venerit atque ventura ira:
quando coeli movendi sunt et terra.
Dies irae, dies illa,
calamitatis et miseriae,
Dies magna et amara valde,
Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine.
Et lux perpetua luceat eis.

English Translation

Deliver Me, O Lord, from eternal death on that day of terror when the heavens and earth shall quake when you come to judge the world by fire
I am made to tremble and fear, until the coming wrath and judgement shall come when the heavens and earth shall quake That day of wrath of calamity and misery, on that great and bitter day
Grant them eternal rest, Lord. And perpetual light shine upon them.

No Time

Traditional Camp Meeting Songs

arr. Susan Brumfield
(b. 1961)

Rise, oh, fathers rise; let's go meet 'em in the skies.
We will hear the angels singing in that morning. Oh, I really do believe that just before the end of time, We will hear the angels singing in that morning.

Rise, oh mothers rise; let's go meet 'em in the skies.
We will hear the angels singing in that morning. Oh, I really do believe that just before the end of time, We will hear the angels singing in that morning.

No time to tarry here, no time to wait for you.
No time to tarry here, for I'm on my journey home.

Brothers, oh, fare ye well, for I'm on my journey home.
Sisters, oh, fare ye well, for I'm on my journey home.
I Shall Not See the Shadows (from The Lost Birds)

Christopher Tin
(b. 1971)

When I am dead, my dearest,
Sing no sad songs for me;
Plant thou no roses at my head,
Nor shady cypress tree:
Be the green grass above me
With showers and dewdrops wet;
And if thou wilt, remember,
And if thou wilt, forget.

I shall not see the shadows,
I shall not feel the rain;
I shall not hear the nightingale
Sing on, as if in pain:
And dreaming through the twilight
That doth not rise nor set,
Haply I may remember,
And haply may forget.

Between the March and April line—
That magical frontier
Beyond which summer hesitates,
Almost too heavenly near.

The saddest noise, the sweetest noise,
The maddest noise that grows and grows,—
The birds, they made it in the spring.

At night’s delicious close.
The saddest noise I know.
Yonder Come Day

Traditional Sea Islands Melody
and Traditional Spirituals
arr. Paul John Rudoi
(b. 1985)

Evan Short, tambourine

Oh day, Yonder come day.
Day done broke inna my soul, Yonder come day.
  Good mornin' day, Yonder come day.
  A brand new day, Yonder come day.
  Oh come on child,

    Hush, hush, somebody’s callin' my name.
    Oh my Lord, oh my Lord what shall I do?

Oh day, Yonder come day.
  I was on my knees, Yonder come day.
  When I heard him say, Yonder come day.

    Steal away, steal away, steal away to Jesus.
    Swing low, sweet chariot, comin' for to carry me home.

    Day done broke inna my soul, Yonder come day.

Now as I was young and easy under the apple boughs
About the lilting house and happy as the grass was green,
The night above the dingle starry,
Time let me hail and climb
Golden in the heydays of his eyes,
And honoured among wagons I was prince of the apple towns
And once below a time I lordly had the trees and leaves
Trail with daisies and barley
Down the rivers of the windfall light.

And as I was green and carefree, famous among the barns
About the happy yard and singing as the farm was home,
In the sun that is young once only,
Time let me play and be
Golden in the mercy of his means,
And green and golden I was huntsman and herdsman, the calves
Sang to my horn, the foxes on the hills barked clear and cold,
And the sabbath rang slowly
In the pebbles of the holy streams.

All the sun long it was running, it was lovely, the hay
Fields high as the house, the tunes from the chimneys, it was air
And playing, lovely and watery
And fire green as grass.
And nightly under the simple stars

As I rode to sleep the owls were bearing the farm away,
All the moon long I heard, blessed among stables, the nightjars
Flying with the ricks, and the horses
Flashing into the dark.

And then to awake, and the farm, like a wanderer white
With the dew, come back, the cock on his shoulder: it was all Shining, it was Adam and maiden,
The sky gathered again
And the sun grew round that very day.

So it must have been after the birth of the simple light
In the first, spinning place, the spellbound horses walking warm
Out of the whinnying green stable
On to the fields of praise.
And honoured among foxes and pheasants by the gay house
Under the new made clouds and happy as the heart was long,
   In the sun born over and over,
       I ran my heedless ways,
   My wishes raced through the house high hay
   And nothing I cared, at my sky blue trades, that time allows
   In all his tuneful turning so few and such morning songs
       Before the children green and golden
           Follow him out of grace,

Nothing I cared, in the lamb white days, that time would take me
   Up to the swallow thronged loft by the shadow of my hand,
       In the moon that is always rising,
           Nor that riding to sleep
   I should hear him fly with the high fields

And wake to the farm forever fled from the childless land.
   Oh as I was young and easy in the mercy of his means,
       Time held me green and dying
   Though I sang in my chains like the sea.
