Applications for National 4-H Dairy Conference are Now Open!

What happens at National 4-H Dairy Conference and how can I attend?

Almost every year, a few 4-H dairy youth travel to Madison, Wisconsin to attend National 4-H Dairy Conference. There is so much to do and experience in only six days! Delegates make ice cream using liquid nitrogen, put their hand inside a cow’s stomach, square dance, and see 125,000 frogs. They tour an organic dairy, methane digester, the Wisconsin State capitol, cheese plant, Hoard’s Dairymen, and ABS bull barns. On top of this, they spend the afternoon at World Dairy Expo, seeing the best dairy cows from around the globe. Then there is the opportunity to get to know other delegates from across the United States and Canada.

This is only a small part of the experiences found at 4-H Dairy Conference. Sound interesting and fun? It is a wonderful trip – that you can attend, with most expenses covered by the 4-H Dairy Endowment! If you are interested in attending, fill out an application to be on this year’s team!

Application are due April 1 and can be found at: https://extension.wsu.edu/4h/dairy-endowment-fund/program-activities/dairy-conference-team/

The fund also supports two scholarships for college and travel scholarships for youth to participate in national dairy-related educational events.

4-H to Sell National Conference Center

Sara Wyant, Editor/Publisher, Agri-Pulse
The National 4-H Conference Center, one of the largest nonacademic youth education and conference facilities in America, is up for sale.

“It’s a COVID-driven decision,” said National 4-H Council President and CEO Jennifer Sirangelo. She said the Council previously had plans to further develop the facility, but it’s been closed since March 22, 2020 due to the pandemic. It is not expected to reopen to youth groups and guests in 2021 due to local government restrictions on group gatherings and broader travel restrictions.

Located on 12 acres in the upscale neighborhood of Chevy Chase, Maryland, 10 miles from downtown Washington, D.C., the complex has long been a destination for numerous youth groups from around the world. Those global guests represented about 80% of the location’s traffic; the remaining 20% were National 4-H Council hosted meetings and events attended by approximately 2,500 4-H youth each year.

Highly Pathogenetic Avian Influenza (HPAI) Info Available for Poultry Project Youth

Highly pathogenic avian influenza is very active right now around the globe. Outbreaks are presently occurring in North Korea, China, Netherlands, Sweden, Spain, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Iran, Poland, Norway, France, and Ukraine.

Wild waterfowl are one of the main ways the virus moves around. A major migratory flight path for wild waterfowl includes Washington State; many waterfowl species (swans, ducks, geese) overwinter in the state as well. These birds can carry the avian influenza virus and spread it to chickens, in which it is much more deadly. Please refresh your knowledge of the biosecurity practices recommended to keep your birds safe and take these actions every day!

Here are some good resources:

More Information on HPAI:
Washington State Veterinarian News: Batten Down the Hatches Against Avian Influenza

Outbreaks of highly pathogenic avian influenza are happening in several countries around the globe now. Please share this important info with 4-H members, commercial poultry owners, and any other stakeholders who would be affected by an outbreak in the U.S. We do NOT want this disease to get a foothold here! Thanks.

Plea for 4-H Horse Project Youth to Vaccinate for Equine Influenza

Dr. Susan Kerr, WSDA Education and Outreach Coordinator

4-H horse project youth, your horse depends on YOU to keep him/her safe and healthy!

There were 33 confirmed cases of equine influenza in Washington State in 2020. There were an additional 29 suspected cases, and 25 more horses were exposed to the virus by infected horses. These cases were distributed throughout the state. Fortunately, none of these horses died, which is typical for this disease.

Part of influenza treatment involves strict rest, and some horses do not return to normal for six months! Can you imagine not being able to ride or exercise your sick horse for weeks or months? Horses infected with the influenza virus can develop secondary pneumonia, which can be much more serious and require antibiotic treatment.

If your horse is at risk of catching influenza from other horses, why not prevent this disease and all its complications by vaccinating him/her? The American Association of Equine Practitioners (AAEP) recommends horses at risk be vaccinated for influenza every six months.

Is your horse at risk of influenza? YES if he/she has contact with other horses “outside its bubble” at shows, trail rides, schooling, etc. Also YES if you keep your horse at a stable where other horses are coming and going and mixing with other horses. Even if your horse doesn’t go anywhere, another horse can bring the virus to him/her.
If your horse stays at your home barn with a steady “bubble” of barn mates and doesn’t have direct or indirect contact with other horses, he/she is at minimal risk of influenza.

A very good article with more details about equine influenza is available at https://www.equinediseasecc.org/disease-information.

For more information about equine vaccinations, see the AAEP’s recommendations at https://aaep.org/horse-owners/owner-guidelines/owner-vaccination-guidelines or speak with your veterinarian.

The foundation of animal welfare is preventing animal illness, pain, and suffering. Vaccinating against diseases of concern is a very simple and effective way to do this.
