

2023 Master Gardener Education Series

Master Gardener Education Garden at Greenbank Farm 765 Wonn Road

Sunday, May 21, 1-2 pm

The Organic Garbage Disposal – Worms

Presented by Bobbi Peskuric

Why have worm bins? Keeping worm bins is easy and rewarding. Learn about a simple way to use your food scraps to condition and transform soil from landfills to lush gardens.

Bobbi is a long-time Master Gardener who has used worm bins for the last ten years. She tends the worm bins at the Education Garden.

Sunday, June 11, 1-2 pm

What Do You Really Know About Bees?

Presented by Lisa Phillips

Come and learn about bee diversity from a long-time beekeeper whose bees have been pollinating farms and gardens all over Whidbey Island.

Lisa is an expert beekeeper, Master Gardener, and teacher.

Saturday, July 22, 11 am-12 pm

Gardening for a Second Planting Season

Presented by Anza Muenchow

Mid to late summer is an ideal time to plant starts and seeds for productive second-season crops.

Anza has been growing organic food at her farm for the past 15 years. She is a long-time Master Gardener and Tilth member.

Sunday, August 20, 1-2 pm

Gardening as We Age

A panel discussion by Susan Dakis, Barb Douglas, Ed Hollis, Martha Hollis, and John Bachert

Research has shown that gardening is healthy for our bodies and our spirits. How do we continue to grow our own food and maintain our gardens as we age? Join us for a lively panel discussion of Master Gardeners who will share their secrets about aging and gardening with grace.

The panelists are veteran Master Gardeners who have been active in the Education Garden, in Master Gardener training programs, in a wide variety of other projects, and in their own gardens.

Sunday, September 17, 1-2 pm

Wild Fall Color in the Garden

Presented by Tobey Nelson

Enjoy beautiful flowers in the garden or in pots! Learn design principles, color selection, soil care, and container use.

Tobey has a Bachelor of Science degree in landscape design and is a Certified Professional Horticulturist. She has been designing and maintaining gardens for 29 years.

All gardeners are welcome to attend
and the seminars are FREE

WSU EXTENSION
Island County

Extension programs and employment are available to all without discrimination. Evidence of noncompliance may be reported through your local Extension office. Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication or program information or reasonable accommodation need to contact Loren Imes at WSU Extension Island County, 406 North Main St, Coupeville WA 98239, loren.imes@wsu.edu or 360-678-2343 at least two weeks prior to the event.