

CULTIVATING SUCCESS™

sustainable small farms education

ON-FARM INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The WSU Cultivating Success™ On-Farm Internship Program

has been created to connect experienced Washington State mentor farmers with those interested in exploring agriculture as a career path. New and beginning farmers interested in this program will be connected to experienced mentors with farm and food businesses to learn through hands-on experiences the intricacies of operating a small-scale agricultural business.

LEARN MORE AND APPLY TODAY!

<http://extension.wsu.edu/kitsap/agriculture/kitsap-farm-internship-program/>

The core values of this program are:

MENTORSHIP – Creating a direct connection between interns and practiced, experienced farmers as well as other local subject matter experts.

COMMUNITY – Focused on building place-based knowledge and forming community connections.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING – Active and applied hands-on education in real farm and food business settings.

WHOLE FARM SYSTEMS – Framing all decision making for personal, farm, and business management through a holistic lens.

SMALL FARMS – Geared towards smaller operations that produce high value specialty crops and/or livestock for retail and direct market.

This program was developed and is supported by WSU Food Systems with local regional coordination in qualifying counties throughout Washington State.

Kitsap County

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY
EXTENSION

Food Systems

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY