Equine 4-H Youth Having Fun While Learning

A big thank you to those who helped organize and played a part at "Trail Obstacle Course" Training and Practice Day for the Equine 4-H community. Enjoy the pictures:

The Most Common 4-H Injuries

Thousands of 4-H activities are insured each year by the American Income Life Special Risk Division ranging from club meetings to county fairs to summer camp. Not surprisingly, equine related incidents account for the most accidents submitted to the company. Broken bones after falling from a horse is the number one injury reported, followed closely by sprains and strains also suffered after falling from the saddle. Bruises/contusions and head injuries after falling from a horse are the fifth and sixth most common injuries processed by our claims department.

Cuts and lacerations caused by a sharp object is the third most common injury suffered by participants in 4-H events. No particular activity contributes to the incident more than others. Injuries have occurred while fishing, whittling wood, working at a food stand, or hiking at camp. Fourth on our list of most common injuries is physical trauma suffered while working with a large animal. Typical scenarios are a youth or adult being struck or crushed while working with the animal in an enclosed area. A youth being dragged by a large animal that bolts is also a common occurrence.

Overall 4-H and Cooperative Extension youth programs do an outstanding job of promoting good risk management and providing safe and age appropriate activities. It is impossible to eliminate all accidents, so be sure to remain diligent in following and implementing safety guideline and rules provided by your state and county 4-H offices and the facilities used for the activities you sponsor.

Attention All Volunteers!

All WSU Extension Volunteers must log on to the Volunteer Hours Reporting System: <http://ext.wsu.edu/Volunteers/default.aspx> each month to report hours they worked for any WSU Extension program. (You can add hours to, or edit previous months entries at any time for the current year.)

Volunteer Hours Reporting System

- This is the system for recording the data that the Washington State Department of Labor and Industries requires for WSU to ensure volunteers are indeed working on behalf of the university for their Protection/Medical Coverage during their activities as 4-H Volunteers.
- Reporting of volunteer hours documents Volunteer Medical Coverage for any potential injuries they might sustain in service of the WSU.

Provides documentation for the liability coverage WSU provides to its volunteers.

Examples of what Qualifies as Volunteer Activities

(You can add hours to, or edit previous months' entries at any time for the current year.)

List of Activity Types:

Club/County 4-H Event

Club fundraisers, club meetings, training shows, community service projects, etc.

Deliver an Educational Activity

Serving as a presenter, chaperone, leader, etc...of a program meeting, training event, clinic, or that has an educational objective and is planned as a 4-H event.

Help at Fair

Work performed as a 4-H volunteer (not a Superintendent, Director, or Judge) at County Fair, or State 4-H Fair.

Prepare for Educational Training

Any planned activity prior to a qualified Educational Activity which you engage in to make the activity possible, e.g., shopping for project supplies, preparing activities, project committee meetings, etc.

Support/Office Work

Correspondence, phone calls, preparation and submission of club tax filing, reporting of volunteer hours, council meetings, committee meetings, fundraising committee, etc.

(If you do not see your activity listed here, select a type that best describes your activity.)
