Happy Friday!

Thank you to all of the leaders who have attended the 4-H Kick-Off sessions. Lauren, Carolyn and I are working diligently on the new enrollment process. Please be patient, as there are some learning curves for us as well. We were very pleased to announce that all general club leaders, with the exception of three, have attended the Kick-Offs. I would like to thank Richard and Diana Weitman, Allen Smith and Sue Dillman for their help with the set-up and clean-up for the meeting on Monday evening.

The next workshops will be 4-H 101 Volunteer Leader Trainings. We have scheduled those for Monday, November 30th and Thursday, December 10th, both 6:00 – 8:30. At these trainings we will review the ‘nuts & bolts’ of 4-H including 4-H Policies and Procedures, Financial Record Keeping, Organization Skills, Effective Teamwork, Engaging Youth & Families, Basic Meeting Procedures, Curriculums and more.

Your Friday Update is your “GO TO” for all 4-H happenings. If you would like your club event added to the Friday Update, please notify me at jmkiehn@wsu.edu.

Those who showed steers at the Grant County Fair will receive carcass data and premiums for steer that were turned. The Beef Bucks program will be Tuesday, November 10, 2015 at 6:30 pm at the Huck Fuller Building on the Grant County Fairgrounds.

Sarah Smith is asking those of you who have a live picture of your steer to please send it to her to be used to correlate the live pictures with the ribeye pictures. Email the pictures to her at smithsm@wsu.edu. She reported that over 75% of the steers graded Choice with an average yield grade of 2.4 and two steer graded Prime.

Pennsylvania and Nebraska Seeking Washington Exchange

A 4-H Club in Granville Summit, Pennsylvania, is seeking a club exchange experience for the 2016-2017 4-H year. Here is a description of their area and opportunities:

'We live in the Endless Mountains area of Pennsylvania. It is a place of beautiful rural landscapes, dotted with farming and country life. We are a small group with 11 members at this time. In our previous exchanges we have traveled to Utah, Montana, and recently Kansas. When we hosted them, we traveled to Hershey Chocolate World, Knoebel's amusement park, traveled the Pennsylvania Grand Canyon by horse and covered wagon, drifted down the Susquehanna River, toured the Little League World Series Museum, visited dairy farms, went underground to a cave by boat at Penn's Cave, took a bus through a wildlife park, and of course had fun potlucks and family time with the kids.'

The following request was received from a 4-H group in Nebraska: I am Jodi Sellman, the sponsor for Dawes County Jr. Leaders in Nebraska. I am looking for another 4-H group to do an exchange program. We traveled this year so we would like to host the group in 2016 and then we would travel in 2017. My group mentioned Washington as a state they would like to exchange with. Do you have any suggestions or another contact that can help me out?

This is a wonderful way to develop friendships and explore a different part of our country. For additional information, contact Jeannie Kiehn, 4-H Program Coordinator at 754-2011 ext: 4309 or jmkiehn@wsu.edu.

Adults over the age of 25 may also apply as chaperones.

Deadline to submit completed applications is November 20, 2015.

2016 USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Youth Loan Available

“As the new 4-H and FFA year is starting again, it is time to consider Farm Service Agency to financially assist in 4-H and FFA youth loan projects,” says Libby Anderson, Farm Loan Manager. FSA has established a great network with local 4-H and FFA leaders, local fairs, auctioneers and other to make this a successful program. FSA Youth Loans have become very popular as proven by the repeat youth loan borrowers year after year. FSA youth loan participants must remember to be responsible for the day-to-day care of their animals and encourages youth to get out into the community to market themselves to seek additional fair support.
