DEAR 4-H LEADER,

As you start the new 4-H year, ask yourself, "Do I sit on my hands enough?" Some 4-H leaders sit on their hands. They are helpful, capable enthusiastic and love kids -- but they sit on their hands. They say it's a habit that works very well.

One of the most difficult things a 4-H leader must do is allow other people to use and develop their abilities. Whether it's a nine year old future chef, a first-year leader, the first meeting for the club president, or a committee planning the club booth, the 4-H leader is to sit on his or her hands.

We all know it's simpler and faster for the person who already knows how to do something to do it again. The muffins will be gently rounded instead of peaked, the meeting will be given by an experienced leader, the club business meeting will go more smoothly, and the booth will get a neatness award. But what happens to the people in the process? Johnny still doesn't remember to stop stirring. Mrs. Brown still hasn't had a meeting alone with the members. The club president decides the leader can do it better, so why try. The members of the club booth committee still haven't had the experience of carrying out an idea as a group,

It's not easy to decide when help is needed and when help would stifle developing abilities. Think about your last project meeting. Was there a time when you reached in to do something yourself, when a few directions would have enabled the member to do it himself or herself? Did you hurry to clean up because the members take too long: Should Johnny try to do something he really wants, but you think it's too difficult? There are no "right" answers. But consider it. Do you sit on your hands enough?

- 🍀 I hear -- I forget
- 🍀 I see -- I remember
- 🍀 I do -- I understand

THE PRUDENTIAL SPIRIT OF COMMUNITY AWARDS

4-H will have the opportunity to participate in The Prudential Spirit of Community Awards and its annual search for our nation's top youth volunteers. Last year, 175 county 4-H programs selected honorees in this prestigious youth recognition program. The Prudential Spirit of Community Awards program, sponsored by Prudential Financial in partnership with the National Association of Secondary School Principals, recognizes individuals in grades 5-12 solely on the basis of their volunteer activities. 4-H'ers can apply online at <http://spirit.prudential.com>. Applications must be submitted to a county 4-H faculty/staff member by November 5. Once county 4-H programs have selected Local Honorees, they must certify those applications by November 12 to the State 4-H Office in Puyallup for a state-level judging committee, which will pick the top 4-H youth volunteers in Washington.

All state-level honorees receive special recognition, while the top high school and middle level volunteer in each state receive silver medallions, $1,000 awards, and a fabulous trip to the nation's capital for national recognition events. A national selection committee will name America's top 10 youth volunteers for 2014. Each will win an additional $5,000, a gold medallion, a crystal trophy, and a $5,000 grant from The Prudential Foundation for a charitable nonprofit organization of his or her choice.
