What is Tukey Orchards?
Tukey Orchards is a Washington State University owned orchard which has a wide variety of fruit and employs many different techniques to grow the fruit.
It sells the fruit via U-picks and also typical fruit sales that are held on Fridays and/or Saturdays.

What did I do there?
- Learned about pest management
- Saw fruit disorders
- Learned how to pick and quality control
- Worked with the general public
- Learned what factors to consider when planning a new orchard
- Worked with different planting types and varieties

How will this benefit my future?
I worked jobs that one day I hope to be overseeing, such as pickining fruit. By doing these jobs I will be a more considerate manager in the future.
I also learned about what you need to take into consideration when planning an new orchard.
Overall, I learned the daily duties of managing an orchards such pest control and fruit maturity.
