

Sociologists @ Work Series

February 26th @ 4pm PST

Katie Bittinger, PhD

Bittinger is a Data Analyst for the Washington Department of Social and Health Services. Her responsibilities include project management, statistical analysis of administrative data, and reporting of research findings.

March 26th @ 1pm PST

Juanita J. Chinn, PhD

Chinn is the Program Director for the Population Dynamics Branch of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. Her interests include racial, ethnic, and nativity disparities in health.

April 16th @ 1pm PST

Matt Rafalow, PhD

Rafalow is a Social Scientist at Google, where he leads a research program on live streaming experiences. His interests include education, inequalities, and technology.

