Hello.

We are glad you’re interested in the position of Data and Strategy Associate in the Office of Strategy, Planning, and Analysis (OSPA) at Washington State University (WSU). We have three openings for this position, and are excited to share this opportunity for you to contribute to WSU’s data-informed mission.

In this role, you will play a vital part in discovering patterns, extracting actionable insights, and transforming raw information into knowledge that will shape WSU’s future direction. As an integral member of our team, you will actively engage with faculty, staff, and administrators, serving as a key influencer in guiding decisions, shaping strategies, and driving positive change.

We believe that being a great colleague is just as important as possessing exceptional skillsets. We value individuals who embody collaboration, adaptability, and intellectual curiosity. At OSPA, we foster a culture of continuous learning, offering a range of professional development opportunities, including conferences, workshops, and cross-departmental initiatives, to support your well-rounded growth.

If you have a genuine passion for making a difference in higher education and thrive in a collaborative environment, we eagerly await your application. Join us in leveraging the power of data to advance WSU and the communities we serve.

Thank you for considering this exciting opportunity, and we look forward to the possibility of welcoming you to WSU.

Go Cougs!

CHRISTINE HOYT
VICE PRESIDENT FOR STRATEGY, PLANNING, AND ANALYSIS
Our Office

Our Role at Washington State University

The Office of Strategy, Planning, and Analysis (OSPA) brings clarity and focus to strategy and planning at WSU. There are several ways in which we support the WSU System:

System Strategic Planning
Our vision is for the system strategic plan to be alive and relevant for the entire WSU community. We facilitate strategic planning on a system level.

Data-Informed Decision-Making
To help WSU truly operate as a data-informed institution, we are a vital source of internal and external data analysis and insights, including stakeholder needs, for planning and decision making.

Accuracy and Actionability of Data
We make every effort to assure the accuracy and actionability of the data analyzed and distributed following the University Data Policies. We respect and guard individual privacy while supporting the needs and requirements of our constituents.

Alignment in System Planning
We are working to improve system plan implementation in all its forms. Bringing alignment to major planning processes at WOU will help us more effectively reach our system goals and mission.

Our Envisioned Future

WSU will operate as a data-informed institution, and OSPA will be at the center.

WSU will benefit from a deep and robust culture of planning and informed decision making led by OSPA.

The system strategic plan will be alive and relevant for the entire WSU community.

OSPA will serve as a conduit, breaking down siloed thinking and acting.

OSPA will be recognized as a leader in fostering a culture of evidence.

Our Values

Collaboration. We put people first. We build relationships and support and equip our teammates and partners for success.

Learning. We cultivate a culture of curiosity and are always growing as individuals and as a team.

Teamwork. We trust, support, and empower each other. Our team is both fun and effective.

Innovation. We ask tough questions and aren’t afraid to pursue creative solutions.

Inclusion. We welcome and learn from people with diverse backgrounds and perspectives. We support equitable access to information.

Integrity. Strong ethics drive our actions. We are accountable and transparent.

Quality. You can trust that our work we do and the services we provide are accurate and high-quality.
The Data and Strategy Associate performs the following responsibilities:

- Conducts advanced analytics to transform complex datasets into insights for institutional decision making, strategy formulation, benchmarking, and policy development. This includes using mathematical and statistical techniques, developing predictive models to forecast future outcomes, synthesizing data, and/or creating visualizations.
- Manages institutional research projects from start to finish, including scoping and defining projects, identifying and prioritizing key questions and data sources, developing data collection and analysis plans, and communicating and discussing results and recommendations to institutional leaders and stakeholders.
- Works across data domains and in collaboration with other key staff to help generate reports in a variety of areas, such as research, financial aid, enrollment, student success, and faculty and staff demographics. May also help to generate reports to meet external reporting requirements from governmental agencies, accrediting bodies, and other stakeholders.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
- Positions require a bachelor’s degree in a relevant field AND five (5) years of progressively responsible experience. Any combination of relevant education and experience may be substituted for the educational requirement on a year-for-year basis.

WELCOME
TO A THRIVING COMMUNITY ON THE PALOUSE

Remember the iconic Windows background? That’s what our backyard looks like.

WSU Pullman is located in the heart of the Palouse, a hidden gem in Washington and Idaho with one of the most unique landscapes in the northwest.

Many communities make up the area which WSU’s flagship campus calls home. Pullman, WA, and Moscow, ID are just minutes apart and offer a vibrant atmosphere with a range of cultural events, and a rich history. Surrounding communities such as Colfax, Palouse, Genesee, Uniontown, and Potlatch provide small-town living opportunities while bringing energy and vitality to the area.

Outdoor enthusiasts can enjoy hiking, biking, skiing, and other recreational activities in the nearby mountains and forests.

Fun facts about the area

► Pullman is home to the largest Lentil Festival in the world, which is held every August and celebrates the city’s agricultural heritage and the humble lentil.

► The WSU Creamery, located on the university campus, is famous for producing a variety of award-winning cheeses, ice cream, and other dairy products that are sold both locally and online.

► Pullman is located near the Idaho border, and Moscow, Idaho (home of the University of Idaho) is only a short drive away, making it easy to explore two different college towns in one day.

► Pullman’s name is derived from the name of its founder, George Pullman, who was a railroad car manufacturer and industrialist.

► Pullman is located in Whitman County, which is the largest wheat-producing county in the United States.

► The city is home to the Palouse Discovery Science Center, a hands-on museum for children and families that features interactive exhibits and educational programs.

► The cities of Pullman and Moscow boast a lively and dynamic arts and cultural scene, with numerous galleries, theaters, and music venues showcasing local and regional talent.

► Pullman and Moscow are known for their local restaurants and breweries, which serve up a variety of delicious cuisine and craft beers made with locally sourced ingredients.

► The Steptoe and Kamiak buttes are well known destinations for their scenic views and hikes. Steptoe is the most popular photography destination on Palouse, rising 1,000+ feet above the air.
