A SEED planted today is a GIFT for tomorrow

Help us make a difference!
You can be a vital part of the WSU Extension Master Gardener Program celebration and its future success! Your support empowers our initiatives and will help establish the first-ever, fully dedicated Master Gardener Program endowed faculty chair.

Gifts that matter
Donations help WSU Extension master gardener volunteers:

- Impact food insecurity across Washington by bringing communities together and teaching them how to grow their own food. Master gardeners provide roughly 60,000 pounds of fresh produce to local food banks per year.

- Protect pollinator health and habitat by teaching about the critical role pollinators play in food production. We help people create pollinator habitat and ensure residents know about the safe use of pesticides to ensure pollinator health.

- Establish collaborations and partnerships with organizations that do similar work to create fire-resistant neighborhoods, waterwise landscapes, and support clean water initiatives.

- Act as early detectors of invasive species with the know-how to identify, report, and manage plant and insect pests.

SOWING THE SEEDS OF SUCCESS

Funded by you, our partners, and our community, the Master Gardener Program endowed faculty chair will:

- Teach master gardeners cutting-edge horticulture and environmental stewardship in perpetuity

- Create tools that support volunteer outreach such as publications and fact sheets

- Partner and collaborate with like-minded organizations to leverage program strengths

- Build robust curricula that addresses difficult societal challenges

DONATE ⊳ TODAY!

To support this campaign, scan the QR code or visit mastergardener.wsu.edu/how-to-donate

WSU Extension programs and employment are available to all without discrimination. Evidence of noncompliance may be reported through your local Extension office.