

Inside of Me

by Nicole Widrig

Inside of me there is a place
An evil inside that hides its face
I had thought it lost and gone away
But now I fear it's here to stay

A hole with seeping spreading cold
Opening empty arms to hold
Veins of crystal jagged ice
Darkness demands a terrible price

Filled and chained with a growing fear
Afraid, afraid, can no one hear?
Save me please I silent cry
I do not wish to say good bye

For a time I was free
I thought I found the lock and key
But now I see that was not so
The darkness was hiding far below

Rising up I feel its glee
Help me, save me, hear my plea
I feel my spirit screaming deep
As darkness urges me to sleep

A ragged hole resides inside
Filled with empty horrid eyes
