Psych Students,

Welcome to week 9! You are now over halfway done with the fall semester.

It is time to sign up for your spring advising appointment if you have not already! You can now view registration holds, spring registration dates, and add courses to your shopping cart in myWSU.

Registration for spring opens in November. Don’t wait to schedule your advising appointment until November if you want to register on time!

This week we hope that you can join us for another industry speaker presentation: Oliver Billon. Oliver will be talking about his experience in Sports Psychology!

Looking for an undergraduate teaching assistant position? Dr. Posey is currently looking for TAs for Psych 210, 311, and 312 for spring 2024. See the flyers inside for more details. Note: Students must first complete the course that they would like to TA for with a B- or higher!

UTAs needed for Psych 210, Spring 2024

Are you ISO:

- An opportunity to strengthen your understanding of psychology as a science?
- A way to earn co-curricular credit toward your degree?
- Something to make you a more competitive candidate for a job or graduate school?
- Developing skills that other classes may not provide?
- A chance to help others?
- An opportunity to be part of an instructional team and an asset to a professor?
- A potential letter of recommendation for a job or graduate school?

Dr. Dee ISO eight 2-credit UTAs to assist in the administrative duties of Psych 210!

Contact Dr. Dee (deeposey@wsu.edu) to discuss enrolling in 2 cr. of Psych 497.02. If you’re unsure whether 2 cr. of Psych 497.02 will fit into your graduation plan, contact your academic advisor.
UTAs needed for Psych 311, Spring 2024

Choose from:

- Grader – best for those who want flexibility to complete duties.
- In-Class TA – best for those who have time in their schedule (Tu/Th 12:05 – 1:20 p.m.) and enjoy working with peers.
- Tutor – best for those who know the material well and like to teach.

Based on role:

- Grader – grade weekly assignments.
- In-Class TA – help with in-class activities, assist students who need help, distribute class materials.
- Tutor – hold office hours and provide one-on-one help to students in Psych 311.

Academic development:

You’ve already taken Psych 311, but how much do you remember? TA’ing will refresh and reinforce your knowledge of statistics and better prepare you for the workforce or grad school.

Earn co-curricular credit to highlight on your CV:

As a TA, you earn credit toward your degree and acquire skills in teamwork, responsibility, punctuality, precision, and integrity. These skills hold significant value for employers and graduate programs, making your experience as a TA something to highlight on your resume or CV.

Seek a letter of recommendation:

By fulfilling your TA responsibilities with care and integrity, you can improve the likelihood of obtaining a letter of recommendation for employment or graduate school.

Get a behind-the-scenes look:

Do you know what it takes to teach a college course? TA’ing offers you the opportunity to get a behind-the-scenes look at what your instructors do to support and further your learning.

Contact Dr. Dee (deeposey@wsu.edu) to discuss enrolling in 2 cr. of Psych 497.03.

ISO: fifteen 2-credit UTAs

If you’re unsure whether 2 cr. of Psych 497.03 will fit into your graduation plan, contact your academic advisor.
UTAs needed for Psych 312, Spring 2024

Are you interested in being a TA for Psych 312?

Enroll in Psych 497.04 for 2 cr. (6 hrs/week)

TA Duties:

Duties involve grading weekly lab assignments.

Qualifications:

To be a TA for Psych 312, you must:
- Have taken Psych 312
- Earned a B– or better in the class.

Information about Being a TA:

Being a TA is an UNPAID position, but you can earn academic credit toward your degree.

You will complete your duties on your own time within a specified time frame.

Benefits:

- Academic development:
  TA’ing for Psych 312 will refresh and reinforce your knowledge of research methods and better prepare you for the workforce or grad school.

- Earn co-curricular credit to highlight on your CV:
  As a TA, you earn credit toward your degree and acquire skills in teamwork, responsibility, punctuality, precision, and integrity. These skills hold significant value for employers and graduate programs, making your experience as a TA something to highlight on your resume or CV.

- Secure a letter of recommendation:
  By fulfilling your TA responsibilities with care and integrity, you can earn a letter of recommendation for employment or graduate school.

Contact Dr. Dee (deeposey@wsu.edu) to discuss enrolling in 2 cr. of Psych 497.04.

ISO: ten 2-credit UTAs

If you’re unsure whether 2 cr. of Psych 497.04 will fit into your graduation plan, contact your academic advisor.
