

PSYCH NEWSLETTER

WSU DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Psych students,

Welcome back from spring break! We are now in week 11 of the spring term which means that there are six more weeks left of instruction left in the semester to go!

Over the break you may have noticed that the fall shopping cart and enrollment dates are now available in myWSU. After you authenticate into myWSU select the "Manage Classes" button to find your enrollment date and shopping cart. For a refresher on how to add classes to your shopping cart click here.

This is also a great time to check on your holds and take care of any that prevent you from enrolling before fall enrollment begins in April. You can view your holds in myWSU by selecting the "Tasks" button and then select "Holds". To view more details about the hold you can click on the ">" symbol.

A common hold is the undergraduate advising hold. If you have this hold and have not scheduled an advising appointment this is your reminder to you schedule one soon. If you are not sure how to schedule an advising appointment click here.

Happy reading!

Become a Peer Mentor for the Psych Department

- ▶ Are you interested in becoming a peer mentor in the psychology department? Peer mentors learn about resources available to students at WSU and guide current and incoming students in the program to resources and experiences that will help them to be successful. As a mentor, you will develop leadership skills, work closely with a faculty member (Dr. Blythe Duell), and learn about the range of experiences available to WSU Psychology students. If you are selected as a peer mentor, you will receive 3 credits of Psych 499 for your successful completion of the program (2 in the fall and 1 in the spring).
- ▶ If you are interested in this opportunity, please apply at the link below by April 7.
- ▶ Scan the QR Code for more information and a link to the application.

ATTENTION

Undergraduate Research Assistant Opportunity

Are you interested in doing research looking at body cam footage of police and community interactions and have those credits count toward your degree?

The Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology is looking for students for their Complex Social Interactions Bodycam Research Lab for the fall semester. Selected students will work with Dr. Makin and two Graduate Research Assistants on a research project conducting content analysis of police and community interactions. Research students will be coding and analyzing bodycam footages of law enforcement officers as they interact with the public. Students must be willing to work in a physical lab on campus throughout the fall semester. Please note, participation in the lab is contingent upon having your fingerprinted and passing a background check.

If approved, you will be enrolled in Crm J 499 (Independent Research) with credits going toward your degree. Credit varies for Crm J 499 and students can choose to enroll up to 4 credits for the course. Working research hours are flexible upon completing the mandatory trainings/meetings. To be considered, students must have completed a research methods course (i.e., Crm J 311, HD 310, Soc 320, Soc 317 or Psych 312) before the start of fall semester with at least a cum GPA of 3.0 or higher. Between our returning students and newly selected, we hope to have up to forty students for this lab.
