

ACG Notes

4/19/2021

- ACG Co-Chair Announcement & Transition:

New co-chair is Stacey Smith Colon. Morann Johnson will start June 1st to take Colette's place.

- UAAEC Report:

Discussion from the advisors who volunteered to review the Canvas Observer Role Tool. Consensus, that it was too much access. Would like access to grades, this is very important. Pros and cons of the tool. Easy to use and navigate. Reminder that this is a tool that is not mandatory, just a helpful tool if advisors want to access it.

Looking for departments that would like to volunteer a faculty member and advisor to pilot a new tool that helps set up their course space in Canvas.

Advisors can have noncredit and advisor courses in Canvas. Please use this email address to submit requests for not for credit courses in Canvas. aoi.notforcredit@wsu.edu.

Enrollment numbers: Applications are down 15% in Pullman. Transfer admit rate down 8%. Acceptance rate was higher than last year. 208 transfer students compared to 227 last year. 4.6% down in general applications. Confirmations rate down 11%. Retention was higher than last year.

Discussion on how vaccines may contribute to enrollment. Residence Halls will mandate testing.

Students can now have a balance of $1000 and still register for classes.

Priority registration: If advisors notice a pattern of an issue, please reach out to Terese King.

Students waiting for grades to enroll: Suggest they register in the classes they can get into now rather than waiting to enroll in class until grades are posted.

Special enrollment requests: Remind students to double-check that the class isn't already offered via blended, or if its actually a change of campus or dual enrollment application. Within 3 days of opening the form 90 students applied. Be aware of the criteria.

- Transitioning Paper Advising Files:

Looking for volunteers to consider process of on transitioning paper files to electronic. Already have a couple employees interested. The Working Group will consider when advisors return to in-person full time and the process for transitioning paper advising to electronic files. All campuses. Contact Chanelle if interested in being on this work group.

*Any conversations regarding advising notes now that everyone uses or has access Slate? Many advisors spoke highly of Slate and its capabilities.
