Washington State University Office of International Programs Joins Common App for 2022 Application Season

Pullman, Wash. (June 22, 2021) – Students outside the United States interested in attending Washington State University for spring semester 2022 now have the option to apply through Common App, an online college application platform that serves more than 3 million applicants, teachers, counselors and advisors around the world each year. Common App is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to access, equity and integrity in the college admission process.

“By joining Common App, WSU’s Office of International Programs is raising our profile among international students who are looking for a safe environment, a high-quality education with faculty and staff committed to their success, a welcoming and inclusive student experience and an affordable price,” said Daniel Saud, Director of International Programs Admissions. “International students now have four ways to apply: directly through our website, through our recruitment partner network outside the U.S., through Cialfo Application, and through Common App. They can choose the option that is easiest and most convenient for them.”

As a Common App member, WSU’s Office of International Programs has streamlined the application process for international students interested in applying to multiple institutions and will gain exposure to students who may not have otherwise considered WSU. Each year, more than 1 million applicants use the Common App. One-third of those applicants are the first in their family to pursue a college degree.

International students may use the Common App to apply to WSU to start studies in spring 2022.

###

Contact:
Deb Strohmaier, Communications Coordinator
Office of International Programs
Washington State University
debra.strohmaier@wsu.edu