

HISTORY DEPARTMENT LECTURE

*Mon, April 17, 10am, CUB 177
(Auditorium)*

“Thomas Jefferson and the West”

Prof. Onuf has written extensively on sectionalism, federalism, and political economy, with a particular emphasis on the political thought of Thomas Jefferson. He has most recently co-authored a biography with Annette Gordon-Reed, “Most Blessed of the Patriarchs:” Thomas Jefferson and the Empire of the Imagination (Liveright, 2016).

Onuf is Thomas Jefferson Professor Emeritus at the University of Virginia and Senior Research Fellow at the Robert H. Smith International Center for Jefferson Studies at Monticello. He is also a founding co-host of the radio show “Backstory with the American History Guys.”

Prof. Peter S. Onuf
Thomas Jefferson Professor Emeritus
University of Virginia

Sponsored by:

The Department of History’s Pettyjohn Fund

For more information, contact lawrence.hatter@wsu.edu